```

Step 8:

Check in GitHub if files are added

The screenshot shows a GitHub repository page for a user named 'Anushreem12'. The repository is named 'Anushreem12' and is located at 'github.com/Anushreem12/Anushreem12.github.io'. The page shows a list of files that were committed in the 'Initial Commit'. The files are: README.md, about.html, contact.html, image.pdf, index.html, profile.png, script.js, skills.html, and style.css. Each file is listed with its commit message 'Initial Commit' and the time it was committed, which is '3 minutes ago' for most files and '6 minutes ago' for README.md. The page also shows a 'README' section at the bottom. On the right side, there is an 'About' section with a description 'No description, website, or topics provided.' and a 'Releases' section with the text 'No releases published' and a link 'Create a new release'. There is also a 'Packages' section with the text 'No packages published' and a link 'Publish your first package'. At the bottom right, there is a 'Deployments' section with a deployment named 'github-pages' that was deployed '2 minutes ago'.

File	Commit Message	Time
README.md	Initial Commit	6 minutes ago
